

RACHELE KANIGEL

San Francisco State University
1600 Holloway Blvd., San Francisco, CA 94132
(415) 338-3134
rachelekanigel.com
rkanigel@gmail.com

Journalism Experience

Freelance Writer/Editor

1997 to present

Write articles for magazines and websites, including U.S. News & World Report, Health, Natural Health, Hippocrates, Reader's Digest, Organic Style, Prevention, San Francisco, Alternative Medicine, CNN.com, WebMD.com and PBS MediaShift

Freelance Correspondent, TIME

1997-2002

Reported on a variety of stories for the national news magazine, including a controversial surgery for Parkinson's disease, a Columbine shooting copycat and estranged siblings

Health and Science Reporter, The Oakland Tribune

1992-1997

Covered medical and scientific advances for Bay Area daily newspaper

Health and Science Reporter, The News and Observer

1990-1992

Covered two major medical schools, drug companies, medical research and the state medical board for regional daily newspaper

Medical Reporter, Contra Costa Times

1987-1990

Covered medicine for suburban regional newspaper

Teaching Experience

Journalism professor, San Francisco State University

2004 to present

Teach newswriting, reporting, magazine, media entrepreneurship and online journalism courses in accredited undergraduate journalism department; advise student newspaper

Program director and instructor, ieiMedia

2007 to 2013

Direct and teach reporting and writing in summer study-abroad programs for independent journalism education organization; taught in Italy (2007, 2009); France (2010, 2011); Israel (2013)

Education

Columbia Graduate School of Journalism, M.S.

2002

Mid-Career Master's Degree Program, concentration in new media

San Francisco State University, B.A. in Journalism

1983

Graduated summa cum laude; named Journalism Graduate of the Year